Project Report:

Reading is a very good habit that one needs to develop in life. Good books can enlighten and lead people in the right direction. Reading is important because it is good for ones overall well-being. Once one starts to read, one experiences a whole new world. If one inculcates the habit of reading eventually one gets addicted to it. It is good to read at least for a few minutes each day to stretch the brain muscles for healthy functioning. Reading leads to good communication which is important in every aspect of life.

Project Report

From the poles to the tropics climate change is disrupting ecosystems. Climate change has increased the average global temperature and is leading to heatwaves. High temperature can cause increased mortality, reduced productivity and damage to infrastructure. The climate change can increase the risk of floods, droughts and fires. Hence we need to protect nature.
