1. Importance of media in Gender equality

Media can play a decisive role in Gender Equality. Mass communication in the form of Cinemas, advertisements, News, Social media, various platforms are being observed by all the People. As such a decisive role can be played by all these sources of communications. It is a very easy way of influencing the public. Now the onus on the media is very high and they have to play a responsible role and pass on messages for the benefit of society in large.

Gender Equity by Dr. B. Chandrakala

Gender equity has to be practised in the society for benefit of all. The male dominance should not be encouraged at the cost of female inferiority. This doesn't disappear overnight but can encourage the females by gaining confidence over a period of time.

3. Importance of Female literacy:

Female literacy is most important for the development of a nation. Mother is naturally the first teacher to any child. There is a lot of change in the attitude of a literate mother who can mould the future of a child and hence indirectly the society too. So right now our main aim should be to increase female literacy

4. Prevention of Domestic violence

India over a long period of time has mainly been a male dominated society. Women are mostly supposed to listen to every necessity of the male and family. Even the mother-in-law thinks she has complete authority over the Daughter-in-law. The society is also leaning towards dowry related issues. All these are the main reasons for inciting domestic violence. In addition poverty and alcohol consumption too have become inciting factors for these evils.

5. Female feticide and Infanticide:

In India people have a partial attitude and they think that only a male baby can carry the family lineage ahead. When a male baby is born the family breaks into celebrations, if a female baby is born she is not given the legitimate status she deserves. In this backdrop some of the families succumb to the prejudices of the society and try to kill the female foetus and infants Due to this act now-a days the Male to female ratio is decreasing which is an alarming factor. Hence the slogan Beti Bachao Beti padao.

7.1.1.2.3. Child Care:

For any working women the presence of child care in the campus will allow them to have peace of mind. As the number of female staff predominates in the campus this facility is being provided. The child care centre is placed in a non-academic environment to prevent disturbances in the academic environment. We have designated employees who look after them properly.
